

Presenter: TSANG Fan-Yu (曾繁裕)

For more information

Current Affiliation & Position

Sun Yat-sen University,
Associate Researcher

Research Expertise

Contemporary Chinese literature and films, East Asian culture, and critical theory

Email

tsangfanyu@hotmail.com

Self-introduction

Gabriel F. Y. Tsang is currently Associate Researcher of Sun Yat-sen University. He completed his PhD and MA degrees in Comparative Literature at King's College London and the University of Hong Kong respectively. He formerly served the British Postgraduate Network for Chinese Studies as President, and was Visiting Scholar of Stanford University and the National University of Singapore. His research outcomes had been published or accepted by the peer-reviewed academic journals including Journal of Narrative Theory, Sungkyun Journal of East Asian Studies, Asian Studies, International Journal of China Studies, and The Language and Semiotic Studies. As a writer, he won some literary awards in Hong Kong and published four novels, namely Stand (2010), Low-Level Love (2012), Silent Desire and Nothingness (2014), and Love in the Era of Post-human (2018).